Spring Rains May Save Remnants Of Italian Army In East Africa

Duke Of Aosta Receives Orders To Hold Out and Keep British Forces Occupied

By RICHARD MOWLER

CAIRO, April 26.—(CND)—The rains, which have begun in Ethiopia, combined with the campaigns in Greece and Libya, may save the Duke of Aosta, Italy's viceroy, and the remnants of his east Africa army from imminent capitulation to the British, it is admitted here.

The rainy season (it is not yet in full force, but preliminary thunderstorms are giving warning of the impending deluge).

Only a few weeks ago, the Duke of Aosta's situation seemed hopeless. He had actually dispatched an envoy to the British to inquire about terms of surrender when the German Food Service in Greece and Yugoslavia and the Axis reappeared.

HITLER CANNOT WIN WAR SAYS R. B. BENNETT

LONDON, April 26.—(BUP)—Right Hon. R. B. Bennett, former Canadian Conservative party leader and Prime Minister, told the British United Press in an exclusive interview today that Adolf Hitler cannot win the war except by invading and defeating the British empire.

"But," says Mr. Bennett, "England's spirit there is no thought of surrender or a compromise peace. The preparations we have made guarantee that."

When asked if he had been deceived by recent German successes, the former Canadian leader answered flatly: "No. Absolutely not."

"Reverend," Mr. Bennett said, "I am not a prophet. I am only a man. And we all realize the conflict cannot be won unless Hitler captures this island fortress of Britain."

He said the British will continue the fight with the tanks and the navy for men and materiel in north Africa, is not stated here.

If the Italians do not surrender to the British now, they risk having to surrender to the Ethiopians later, for there are indications that the Imperial forces in east Africa are coming out of the rain for action elsewhere.

Government functionaries from neighboring British colonies already have been dispatched to capture regions of Ethiopia, to organize various aspects of its administration. The Viceroy, Haile Selassie, is not yet in Addis Ababa, but according to Cairo military arrangements are being made for his return to his former capital.

INITIATIVE OF WEST PRAISED BY MACKINNON

Edmonton Case Is Cited By Trade Minister At Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, April 26.—(CPI)—Initiative of western Canadian manufacturers in the manufacturing field was praised by Trade Minister James A. Mackinnon here Friday when he urged manufacturers to produce commodities for war, home and trade needs.

Mr. Mackinnon announced he intends to return, possibly in mid-summer, to the trade mission to South America which he was forced to abandon last year when he was taken ill.

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Manufacturers' Association, Mr. Mackinnon said he had recently seen many examples of initiative and enterprise that he said will ensure progress of western manufacturing.

EDMONTON EXAMPLE
"There was a need at one of the new war establishments in Edmonton for 140-horsepower boilers. Boilers of this size had never been made in Edmonton before."

The architect in charge was told that he would have to get them in the east. "He was not willing to take the line of least resistance, and called in a firm which he thought might do the job. Today those boilers are working efficiently, a product of a plant in Edmonton—example of many many faith and another man's willingness to tackle a new angle of an old job."

The minister forecast economic forces set in motion by the war, possibly will mean a better balanced western Canadian economy.

Already the federal government has "taken steps to achieve a more equitable distribution of manufacturing throughout Canada."

"The Material Resources Division of the Department of National War Services is working in co-operation with other government departments and with private industry to bring about this highly desirable objective. Its plans include permanent possibilities in the post-war years."

TRADE WITH U.S.
Our trade with the United States has grown very largely," he said, "in this country, because of our need for essential materials of war, we have created adverse balances of trade of some proportions. This while not dangerous may be embarrassing to us, if we cannot increase our exports."

and thus obtain American exchange to offset our commitments to the States.

In contrast to our easy relations with the United States the expansion of our trade with Latin America is faced with many obstacles. The outbreak of war brought a vital change in the situation.

"It was for the purpose of personally viewing the whole situation that I headed a trade mission to South America last fall. We were greatly encouraged by the reception which we received at all points we touched."

I intend to resume the mission as soon as circumstances permit. I hope this will be possible this mid-summer."

Greeks Complain That U.S. Aid Was Not Forthcoming

By GEORGE WELLES

ATHENS, April 26.—(CND)—The bitter complaint of the Greeks, as the German army tears the capital, is that America's help was not forthcoming. Although millions of dollars of defense equipment has been ordered by Greece and at least two ships of the Red Cross material has left America, nothing whatever has arrived.

Aid has been limited to financial help which, though generous, is unequal to the circumstances.

Many understand the difficulties of Atlantic transport but they wonder that the chance of defending the anti-Axis front should have been drawn earlier.

Roosevelt Puts Lindbergh In "Copperheads" Category

Name Describes Approacher F.D.R. Tells Meeting Of Newsmen

WASHINGTON, April 26.—(AP)—President Roosevelt placed Col. Charles A. Lindbergh Friday in the category of civil war "copperheads."

The president was asked at a press conference why the United States army did not take up Lindbergh's proposition. The answer, who opposes the administration's foreign policy is a reserve soldier.

The president remarked that in the civil war, both the confederates and the northerners took on liberty loving people from other countries, and such is certain people who are today.

The latter, he said, were the "copperheads."

When reporters did not react to the name, Mr. Roosevelt said that Lindbergh was an approcher who wanted to make peace in 1943 because he felt the Northerners could not win.

Mr. Roosevelt did not use the word "copperhead," but in speaking of Lindbergh, referred to the man described in the Encyclopedia Britannica as "the most prominent and ablest of the copperheads."

Still replying to the question about Lindbergh, Mr. Roosevelt said there also were an awful lot of approchers in Valley Forge who urged Washington to quit because he could not win against Britain. He advised reporters to read what

Major And Minor Notes

By John Oliver

THREE's battle on all sides these days. Teachers are busy with last-minute preparations for students entering the Alberta music festival. Students are busy on last pieces. Music plans are being made and every one is endeavoring to accommodate those waiting copies which have been sold out. Entries are still being accepted at this writing. The first cut-off is June 1, but the fairly sudden, so those intending to enter and who have not yet done so, should hurry else they may be late. In addition to the festival, teachers and students are combining their efforts to put forth a concert on the last night for the various examinations which will come on the last of June or early in July. Alberta names of those intending to try have been submitted and the last weeks remaining before the term, will pass all the time. Finally, there has been little activity in music circles this year, but behind the scenes there has been plenty.

Invited to the annual banquet and dance of the Edmonton Civic Opera Society last Saturday night, this observer found for the first time, many of those who by their efforts in the chorus or as the orchestra have contributed much to the success of the organization. On such occasions one can gain more intimate information on the contributions of the members than by attending the performances and knowing only the company who are the footlights. While many present were old friends, many were met for the first time.

While-bearded, generous tribute to the society, one of the artists, a soprano, and a chorus, was paid by Mrs. James H. Carmichael, general manager, in a brief address, and all came in for much praise for their devotion.

As evidence of the enthusiasm for the company and love of music, one might direct attention to a young lady, Marie Gannon of Stony Plain, Miss Gannon, according to the records, never missed a rehearsal, or a performance all season. She had to come from Stony Plain on each occasion and never had a walk a large portion of the distance.

Still another outstanding enthusiasm is Jack McNeil of Camrose. He is the principal in the high school there and in general plays an important role in the cultural life of the community as well as in the educational field. As an organist and choir-master he has made a valuable contribution to the life of the city of Camrose. Miss Edmondson, well and favorably remembered, has chosen singing at the music festival here. Attending rehearsals and taking part in performances meant driving in and out again. While he did not attend every rehearsal, the average was high and when he missed, he did his home work so well that he was always prepared for the numbers he sang back up the next time.

Among members of the orchestra, Mrs. May Emile, Mrs. Margaret Scott and Mrs. E. B. Thum, have played with Mrs. Carmichael in all her orchestras for Women's Musical Club, Civic Opera Society and other activities. Regina LeBlanc and John Pelt are next in seniority and in line for long service medals. On the instrumental side one can point while-bearded tribute to Mr. Kelly Conroy and Marie Adkins for their splendid arrangements for the party, while exercising a careful eye over the whole was Berenice Menner (the efficient secretary).

The enthusiasm of these members is typical of the whole society. This observer was impressed with the loyalty to the organization as a whole and in the officials and when one sees such a spirit combined with real talent and ability to produce a good show, it was without any good reason, that the success of the enterprise is assured.

James Thomson, president, announced the Society's annual meeting will be held at the Revere school hall on Monday, May 5.

Members of the Aerial Club, Miss Virginia McVey appeared in concert recently. Members of the junior club taking part were Joan Ferguson, Althea and Chris Virginia Pearson, Turner, Robert Martin, George McVey, Audrey Clarke, Aileen Bulech, Miss Margaret Johnson, Terry (Holmes House) but commencing at 8:15 p.m. Sunday, Mrs. J. B. Carmichael, general musical director of the Society, will conduct.

Adrian, Evelyn Hager, Christine, McKeown, Norma, Jones, Shirley May, Alice Sherman, Gertrude Zander, Philip Tait, Jean McNeil.

Members of the senior club participating were Violet Maken, Gwen Martine, Phyllis Dora, Mrs. J. O'Hara, Francis O'Hara, Eleanor Lobb, Eva Raitt, Wilma van Dusen, Doris Tingle and Miss Mervin.

Unprecedented interest has been shown by Edmonton music lovers in the first concert series of the Civic Opera Society, which was sponsored by the Women's Musical Club. The advance subscription of tickets has exceeded any previous season at this date. Mrs. Ernest Madsen, manager of the series, reports that already more than 1,200 season tickets have been sold and the advance continues to rise. This total is within 75 of the reached when last season's series commenced. With the several months from now until the new season starts, it is safe to predict that last year's peak has been attained.

BUDGET WILL BALANCE AROUND 1,880 MILLIONS

By R. T. RICHARDSON
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau
OTTAWA, April 26.—Confidence is plainly evident in Ottawa circles that 1941 financial problems have been placed on a good working basis, as treasury officials planned to devote the weekend to final details of the budget.

The budget will balance at around $1,880 million, it is understood, and this will settle the controversy that has arisen whether or not the government should include the deficit on British account in the Canadian budget.

The British account, it is learned, will be excluded entirely from the budget. Since that deficit is expected to be $150 million, it will add to a considerable financing item to be handled by Canadian banking facilities, but it will not be a direct burden on the taxpayers pocket book or his capacity to loan money to the government.

The budget expenditures will be in two main sections, war costs of $1,450 million and civil costs of $430 million.

To meet these costs, the government will draw on the taxpayers for well over a billion dollars and how to raise the total. The new income tax is expected to be announced shortly for $750 million. Taxes are now yielding about $1,100 million a year, and $200 or $300 million more will be levied, with sugar, gasoline and other items marked for the tax collector.

The budget will balance at around $1,880 million, it is understood, and this will settle the controversy that has arisen whether or not the government should include the deficit on British account in the Canadian budget.

The British account, it is learned, will be excluded entirely from the budget. Since that deficit is expected to be $150 million, it will add to a considerable financing item to be handled by Canadian banking facilities, but it will not be a direct burden on the taxpayers pocket book or his capacity to loan money to the government.

The budget expenditures will be in two main sections, war costs of $1,450 million and civil costs of $430 million.

To meet these costs, the government will draw on the taxpayers for well over a billion dollars and how to raise the total. The new income tax is expected to be announced shortly for $750 million. Taxes are now yielding about $1,100 million a year, and $200 or $300 million more will be levied, with sugar, gasoline and other items marked for the tax collector.

Hypocrisy—Old and New

Philippians 1:5-10

The word "hypocrisy" is a Greek word which means "to play a part." It is a word which has been used for centuries to describe a person who is not what he seems to be. In the Bible, the word is used to describe the Pharisees, who were a group of Jewish religious leaders who were known for their strict adherence to the law, but who were also known for their hypocrisy. They would perform good deeds in public to gain the approval of others, but in private they would be filled with pride and self-righteousness. The word "hypocrisy" is also used in the New Testament to describe the false prophets of the end times, who will come and deceive many people with their words. They will claim to be prophets of God, but in reality they will be false and their words will be empty. The word "hypocrisy" is a word that we should all be aware of, for it is a sin that is committed by many people in our world today. We should strive to be genuine and honest in all that we do, and we should not allow ourselves to be deceived by the words of false prophets.

Dorothy Dix Says:

Dear Miss Dix—I am married for the second time. Although my first and second marriages are different from first ones, could you give me some suggestions for making this marriage a success?

Answer—Well, my first suggestion is that you have a heart-to-heart session with yourself and try to find out why your first marriage was a failure and what you did that helped to wreck it. Of course, you will live all the blame on your husband. I have yet to meet a divorced person of either sex who was driven out of domestic paradise by a cruel wife or husband whom not even a saint could endure.

Now that that is over and you are taking a fresh matrimonial start, try to change everything that went wrong in the first marriage. Don't repeat the mistakes you made. If you were married with a woman, don't repeat the mistakes you made. If you were married with a man, don't repeat the mistakes you made. If you were married with a child, don't repeat the mistakes you made. If you were married with a pet, don't repeat the mistakes you made. If you were married with a house, don't repeat the mistakes you made. If you were married with a car, don't repeat the mistakes you made. If you were married with a job, don't repeat the mistakes you made. If you were married with a life, don't repeat the mistakes you made.

Vice-Regal Party Spends Carefree Holiday In Canadian Rockies

One old campaigner to another. The Governor-General meets another old soldier in the R.C.M.P. at Lake Louise station, during his journey eastward on the C.P.R. The Earl took it seemed great pleasure in many informal chats with Canadians of all walks of life whom he met during his journey.

The Governor-General of Canada pauses to reflect on the Dominion's early history at the monument to Sir James Hector at the Great Divide. With him is C. A. Cotterell, assistant general manager, western lines, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who accompanied the vice-regal party to Banff, famous mountain resort where they stopped for a holiday weekend.

Their Excellencies the Earl of Athlone and Princess Alice, greeted at Banff, in the Canadian Rockies, by Major P. J. Jennings, park superintendent. The Governor-General and his suite broke their eastward journey at Banff during a week-end, and spent a carefree holiday in the mountains, much as ordinary tourists would. They saw famous Lake Louise and many other beauty spots near Banff before resuming their official tour.

What's New, Mr. King?"

Obviously in high spirit after his visit to Hyde Park and his conference with President F. D. Roosevelt, Prime Minister Mackenzie King arrived back in Ottawa. He is shown here surrounded by newspapermen. The prime minister did not issue any official statement upon arriving but was heard to say cryptically that his trip had been "better than a holiday."

To the little church of St. George, at Banff, in the Canadian Rockies, where Their Majesties the King and Queen of England worshipped two years ago, come the Earl of Athlone and H. R. H. Princess Alice, for Sunday morning services. Standing on the steps of the church were Rev. Canon H. T. Montgomery, the rector, with Major P. J. Jennings, Banff Park superintendent. The Governor-General read the lesson at the service.

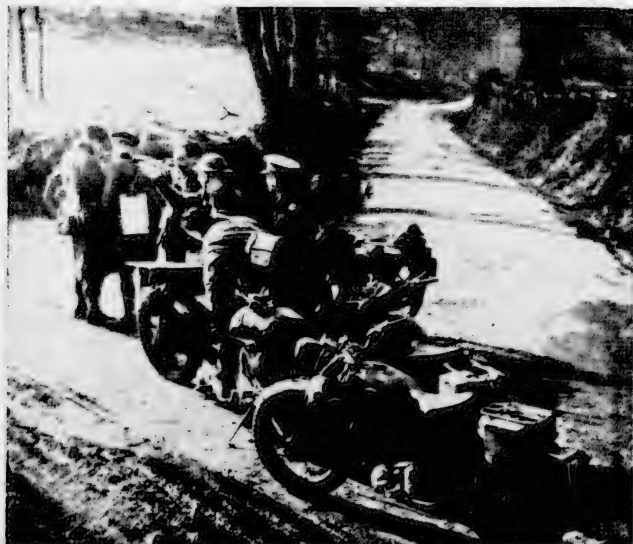

Old tradition in a new land. His Excellency the Earl of Athlone, Governor-General of Canada, jumps across the mountain streamlet which separates British Columbia from Alberta at the Great Divide in the Canadian Rockies. Breaking his official tour for a week-end holiday at Banff, the viceroy and his suite spent two carefree days much as ordinary tourists would do in the Rockies. (Inset: H. R. H. Princess Alice, Countess of Athlone, takes the opportunity presented for a few snapshots.

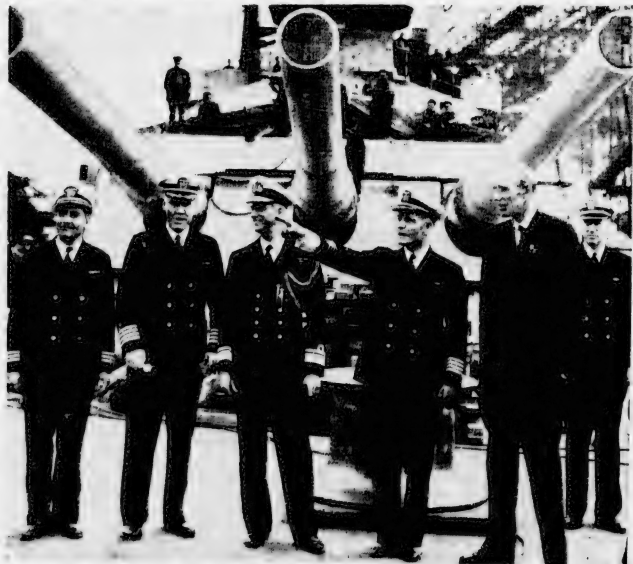

Dr. Christian Volf, Glendale, Calif., inventor, struggles to stay on earth as he ground-tests a new parachute he says is safer and drops slower than models now used. Centre cone forces air into chute faster, thus retarding descent.

Canadian Troops Study How To Combat Blitz Tactics

Specialty selected officers from all Canadian units in England are touring the eastern command in "The Danger Zone" and preparing plans for operation of a counter-offensive against the Nazis, ever successful in getting a foothold on English soil. The officers split up into small groups each touring a section of the zone, and meeting at end of the day's tour to discuss ways and means of blitz busting. This group at a cross road is probably planning something nasty for the Nazis.

British Ambassador Inspects New U. S. Battleship

GLASS WINKING REQUEST

NO ONE KNOWS WHEN OR HOW GLASS WAS DISCOVERED, SINCE IT WAS BEFORE THE DAYS OF RECORDED HISTORY. TODAY, WE SELDOM STOP TO THINK OF THE PART IT PLAYS IN OUR LIVES.

THE FIRST MIRRORS WERE POOLS OF WATER, AND, LATER, SHINING SHIELDS! BUT MILDADY NEVER TRULY SAW HERSELF UNTIL GLASS CAME INTO USE.

DO YOU SUPPOSE IT'S REALLY MADE OF GREEN CHEESE?

THE INVENTION OF GLASS CHIMNEYS GAVE AWAY FOR THE FIRST TIME A LAMP THAT DID NOT FLICKER AND SMOKE.

GLASS BEADS WERE USED TO PURCHASE VAST ACRES FROM THE INDIANS, AND THE FIRST NORTH AMERICAN "MINT" WAS A GLASS BEAD FACTORY.

WE WOULD HAVE LITTLE CONCEPTION OF OUR HEAVENLY NEIGHBORS WERE IT NOT FOR GLASS LENSES AND MIRRORS SO NECESSARY IN OUR DELICATE ASTRONOMICAL INSTRUMENTS.

WITHOUT GLASS FOR WINDOWS OUR HOMES WOULD BE DARK AND DREARY PLACES INDEED.
